ICARUS CONVENTION #32

Archives and Research - Between the Analog and the Digital

Detailed travel information - how to get to the convention location:

There is one major airport in the vicinity, within an hour's drive from Novi Sad – the “Nikola Tesla” airport in Belgrade.

The easiest way to get to Novi Sad then is to take a taxi. We recommend the “Autoturist” Agency (address: Mite Ružića 2, Novi Sad, E-mail: autoturist.ns@gmail.com, cell phone: +381 62 523863). On their web page, there is an online reservation form you can fill in advance in order to book your transport.

If booking via phone, it is recommended to get in touch with the agency in advance in order to schedule the transport.

They can arrange a minivan for up to 8 people or a car for max. 4 people. The minivan fare is 11.000 RSD (approximately 95 EUR). Costs can be split among the passengers for each ride. It is also possible to book a taxi. The cost is 7.000 RSD (approximately 60 EUR).

Another possibility is to take a taxi directly from the airport at the airport’s international arrivals area. It is not advisable to take any taxi outside the airport building, because there are some unregistered taxis that are much more expensive. If that is the only choice, however, negotiating the price in advance is highly recommended.

Another option still is taking a taxi from the airport to Belgrade’s main train station of “Prokop”, which would cost you approximately 30 EUR. Tickets can be purchased only at the ticket office inside of the train station (open 24 hours every day). The single ticket is approximately 7 EUR, with the fastest train taking you to Novi Sad in around 35 minutes.

From the central train station in Novi Sad one can take a taxi just outside the station building or from the car park to the left of the station exit. The fare for the ride to your hotel will be no more than 10 EUR (except in the case of late night arrivals, public holidays or adverse weather conditions).
